My life/Mi vida - Ongoing

Oil on canvas 27"x24"
Oleo en tela 1mx1m

I am absorbed by the life of human beings, who as part of synchronized events, cross boundaries and share the continuity of time. I paint the individual as a prime source of faceless multitudes crossing cultures that merge into pseudo-global identities. I see crowds gathering, merging, protesting, reacting, escaping and seeking refuge by the thousands and millions.

My work depends on real events that have an impact on me. These events are ones where I might have been myself as one more being occupying a common space.

Throughout my years of adjustment as an émigré Italian-Peruvian, I survived constant changes and now, after many years, I am also American. I have added and adapted to these changes, but as all who leave their homelands, I am part of the global moving community; I am a faceless immigrant, unanchored, a true citizen of no land.

This group of paintings is a visual journal of events, that while unfolding, I have turned into paintings. Meanwhile, I have pondered the survival of my personal identity, which has been reshaped with every cultural addition, changing my point of view and personal interests, taking me further away from my starting point.

Multitudes is a catalog of paintings of similar dimensions interacting with one another. The images are self-contained and have a layered meaning that correlates to the other painting and can be arranged interchangeably.

Me interesa la vida de los seres humanos tomando parte en eventos sincronizados, cruzando fronteras, compartiendo la continuidad del tiempo. Pinto al individuo como fuente de multitudes sin rostro cruzando culturas, creando pseudo identidades globales. Veo muchedumbres juntándose, protestando, reaccionando, escapando, y miles de ellos buscando refugio.

Mi trabajo depende de eventos reales que me impactan; eventos en los cuales yo me podría haber encontrado por azar ocupando un espacio común.

A través de mis años de ajuste como italo-peruana emigrada, e sobrevivido cambios constantes y ahora luego de muchos años soy además americana. He añadido y adaptado, pero como todos aquellos que dejan su tierra, soy parte de la móvil pseudo-comunidad global; ciudadana de ninguna parte.

Este grupo de pinturas es un diario de eventos, que he convertido en pinturas mientras estos se desarrollaban. Durante este proceso e meditado en la supervivencia de mi propia identidad, la cual se ha modificado con cada adición cultural, cambiando mis puntos de vista e intereses personales, llevándome cada vez más lejos de mi punto de partida.

Multitudes es un catálogo de cuadros de dimensiones similares que interactúan entre ellos. Las imágenes se valen por sí mismas y pueden intercambiarse a voluntad ya que no mantienen una temática lineal.
